Dear Sir .- I have at length gained pos ession of my magazine Dio Lewis's Monthy. Hereafter all communications to its Editor or Publisher, and all business about my books, must be addressed Dio Lewis, Bible House, New York.

Those who have sent money to others for Dio Lewis's Monthly, or for his books, and have received nothing in return, will please communicate with me at once. Very respectfully.

On Monday of last week Mr. Charle Conner in plowing on his farm near Orange ville, turned up what proved to be a par of a human skull. Upon further investiga tion they found two human skeletons lying side by side. The manner and location of their burial, and the general appearance of their skulls would indicate that they were white men above middle age and buried by the whites. The fact that they were buried near where once stood an old sugar maple which contained peculiar marks and the additional fact that no traces of a coffin, cloths, not even a nail or button were found, and as the Indians strip their victims, suggest the possibility that they are the remains of Lieut, Van Camp's father and uncle who were killed by the Indians in 1780 about that locality while boiling maple sugar. His brother was also killed

Within the past year, two instances of cruel treatment of insane patients in charge of private parties, have come to the knowledge of the Committee on Lunacy. In one case an old man was found naked, in an out-house in a very secluded part of the state, where he had been confied for more than thirty years, chained by the leg. In the other case neither the public nor the committee had any knowledge of the inhumanity practiced upon an old man who had likewise been chained for more than a quarter of a century; and it was not until his death that the particulars were brought out and made public. In view of these facts, the object of the committee is to find out if any such cases are known, or believed to exist, and if so, to send them to State Hospitals for the Insane where they can receive humane and proper treatment; and that if you have concealed and badly treated, we will on private intimation from you, investigate such cases, and take the necessary steps On the 16th instant the important case of for their transfer. Locust Mountain Water Works.

The largest water works in this county. and one of the largest in the State, has just been completed and put into operation in the lower end of the county, one-half mile north of Montana. It was built by the Locust Mountain Company and is known as the Locust Mountain Water Works. The reservoir is 250x150 feet, and is deserving of much credit to the contractor as a fine piece of work. The water is pumped through eighteen inch column pipe from a dam in Brush Valley by two large pumps, which have proved themselves more than equal to their work, having, on their first trial, given the water in the pipes such a pressure as to break them, and force its way out through the top of the ground in several places. Other and heavier pipes were replaced and now the water is brought to the reservoir in the pipes' fullest capacity. There are three nine-inch pipes leading from the reservoir-one to Mt. Carmel, a distance of five miles, one to the Centralia and Logan collieries and the other to the Continental colliery, each of the latter places being three miles distant. The scarcity of water heretofore felt in the Centralia valley during the Summer months, and often causing the collicries to suspend operation, will be prevented hereafter by his new water supply. The Mt. Carmel line of pipe runs through Montana, affording all people in that place who wish to do so, an opportunity to take in water.

State Fair at Philadelphia.

The thirtienth exhibition of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society, together with the Pennsylvania State Poultry Scciety, the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, and the Philadelphia Kennel Clubs. but was thrown into the fire and partly will occur on the new g rounds of the Society, at Broad and Lehigh avenues (Gerly discovered by Col. Kelly's party, and mantown Junction) in the city of Philadelburied. The father of Jacob Melick Esq., phia, commencing on Monday, September 8th, and continuing until Saturday, Septof Lightstreet, was present at the burial.

On these magnificent grounds, the mos convenient of access in the city, have recently been erected a series of splendid buildings that will be occupied by the Society for the holding of its exhibitions for the next ten years.

Already the indications are satisfactory that this will be not only the most complete exhibition ever held by the Agricultural Society, but in addition the State Poultry Society, the State Horticultural Society, and the Philadelphia Kennel Clubs will constitute varied attractions, which, and harass him. It wasn't an earthquake shock bu slight agitation in the temperance cause Quite a number of our people assembled a the Methodist church to hear Mrs. Brewer, the female prohibitionist, of Kansas, wh is now traveling and laboring in this parof the State. The lecture was preceded by music by the Jerseytown choir, and prayer by Mr. H. H. Stout. The lecturer be gan at eight o'clock by reading a chapter from the Bible. For about an hour the people were treated to a history of blood and money-a few words not in any way complimentary to Blaine and Logan, and many words in praise of St. John. The ecturer says Blaine is a bad man, and tha ogan is no better-that wee pine pole night as well be taken down now. It was said that the Republicans go in for high license and plenty of it, and that the Democrats want free whiskey and plenty of it. Perhaps that statement secured a number of votes for Cleveland. A few weeks ago no person could have made me believe that there existed in the Democratic party of Columbia county so much corruption and rottenness as has been shown for the few weeks last past. I say corruption and rottenness, because, if all this seandal (money reports and whiskey reports) which has been flying through our country and other places is untrue and unfounded, the contradictory oaths which have been published in your columns, arc too abominable to be predicted to persons belonging to the Democratic party. It seems to be human when man care for himself and fellow man, but not when he cares all for himself and nothing for his neighbor. The latter must have been the principle upon which those who are guilty must have acted. They must have cared all for self and nothing for their neighbor, their character or their party. Such persons cannot be styled men. They are mere animals walking on two legs and wagging their jaws to make noise. While to the former class belongs those who are innocent, and may a clean conscience be a healing saive to the infamous reports which have been brought to bear upon them.

Moreover, should all these reports be un true and unfounded, there are some who are not men, some who are not loyal citizons of these United States-because the antagonistic oaths which have been printed in your columns, show that there are persons who must have sworn falsely, and thus disregarded the most sacred bindings which an American citizen could take Who is in fault is not known. One oath is generally of as much value as another, and a man is presumed innocent until adjudged and found guilty-so says the law; but the presumption may be overthrown. It is singular what a disagreeable odor : few men can create. All this tends to show that somewhere and by some means a Cassius must have tried to entrap a Brutis and thereby kill a Cresar, or that Cresar was dangerously corrupt himself. For illnow a dispenser of drugs in Millington's feelings and a constant fear that the opponent should gain some advantage, seemed to pervade the true party spirit at many and probably all, the places of balloting The divisions were determined that thele man should win-not looking to the fitness of the person whom they wished to place in nomination.

Mark you, the record of this campaign cannot be forgotten for many years; and it now seems but just and right to separate the dross and foreign matter from the purer metal. To do so, the bullion mus necessarily first be cast into the furnace and after being properly heated all that vile, worthless portion can be cast aside as nothingness. For many years the constant thunder of Republicanism has awed us and such blackened clouds as the Electora Commission have overshadowed us. But, if we cleanse ourselves from all those impurities before November election, the sun will shine brighter than it ever shone in our giving a solid, clean vote to Grover Cleveland. LITTLE JAY.
